New First National Bank of Waterloo Banking Center to Open July 11th

O'FALLON -- The First National Bank of Waterloo's new banking center in the heart of the O'Fallon-Shiloh retail district will be open for business on July 11th.

The center is located at 1177 North Green Mount Rd., across from Dierbergs Crossing and adjacent to the Shoppes at Richland Creek. This more prominent location with easy access to I-64 will make it more convenient for our customers to bank with us while running their errands.

The new two-story location is also home to a commercial real estate business and a title company, making it a financial destination for more than just banking.

"We're excited about the new center and being a part of the retail district," said First National Bank of Waterloo President and CEO Rick Parks. "Customer service is our top priority, and this new location reflects our commitment to the O'Fallon community. We look forward to supporting our customers for years to come."

First National Bank of Waterloo has over $800 million in total assets and twelve other banking centers in Central and Southern Illinois. Banking centers are located in Waterloo, Columbia, Millstadt, O'Fallon, Swansea, Dupo, Smithton, Collinsville, Maryville, Effingham and Stewardson.
